PRESS "ABOUT XCURES"

xCures® is the Clinical Clarity Engine for healthcare, assembling and structuring patient medical records into decision-ready data. The company is focused on improving healthcare outcomes by increasing the value of medical records. Its Clinical Clarity Engine is built on almost a decade of work in the most complex area of medicine, oncology, and is now used across all clinical domains, scaling across care and workflows. The Engine extracts decision-ready data from medical records retrieved across U.S. healthcare systems and delivers it via a web UI or a developer-friendly API. Every answer links to its source document, enabling teams to make better informed decisions. For more information, contact info@xcures.com or visit www.xcures.com
